

Bolidt sets new benchmarks

The new kitchen centre in Berlin Tempelhof sets standards with respect to architecture, design and size and thus responds to the requirements of the demanding metropolitan customer. The new Küchen Aktuell flagship store right by Berlin Tempelhof Airport presents itself to the public with over 160 kitchens on display.

The modern new building has been constructed within a very short period of time and reaches new heights in many ways. With Bolidtop® FiftyFifty, Bolidt has set new benchmarks in flooring. The special exhibition Next Design Kitchens with kitchens in a modern and puristic style, is presented on this innovative flooring system. Here also, Küchen Aktuell, together with Bolidt, consistently applied the concept for the exhibition and created an unequalled loft-style environment.

Its mall-like character on two levels underlines the spacious concept of this architectural masterpiece. The airy, light-flooded exhibition is marked by glass, steel and Bolidtop® FiftyFifty. Floating stairways connect the shop floors at mid level with the centrally situated customer bistro Cabana. With the current 11 stores in Germany, Küchen Aktuell is one of the largest companies in its trade. The 17,500 kitchens that are installed each year speak for themselves, but the 750 plus jobs that have been created are also part of the success story. Bolidt has already been included in the expansion plans for the coming years. The Bolidtop® FiftyFifty flooring system contributes to the optimal presentation of the different kitchens. The Bolidtop® FiftyFifty merges into the display kitchens and not the other way round, as often is the case with other flooring.

For the stores that will be opened in Braunschweig and Isernhagen, Küchen Aktuell has also selected Bolidtop® FiftyFifty. Design, functionality, quality and flexibility were the deciding factors here as well.

